

Hello there!

If you haven't done so already, please read the online release notes about the current firmware update, as this may contain new and important information:

<https://u-he.com/products/civilization/releasenotes.html>

As a rule, all settings you have saved on the module will be retained. Any exceptions in this regard, as well as a changelog, will appear in the release notes.

For instructions about how to perform the firmware update you can either watch our quick tutorial video...

or read the "MicroSD - Firmware Updates" section of the ultimate user guide:

Have a great day!
